

CAPITAL'S STREETS REVOLVE TOO FAST FOR THIS CRITIC

"The Capitol dome in the background; two Congressmen in front of it, couchant; flanked by a long-haired man and a short-haired woman, rampant; with a camel in the corner and the motto 'Ulinia Thule!'"

This device was suggested by George F. Richardson, of California, a member of the Bohemian Club at San Francisco, for a coat of arms for the city of Washington, in a talk he gave at the Arts Club last night on Washington and its peculiarities.

"Washington has many unusual characteristics, one of them being revolving streets," said Mr. Richardson.

"A stranger in Washington coming up against one of your city circles where a number of these revolvers will find that he will helplessly walk around the circle thinking himself walking straight ahead. It seems the streets revolve around the circle as an axis."

The much boasted weather of this city came in for gentle criticism by Mr. Richardson, who said the summer attire of men, who, he said, dressed all alike in palm beach suits which looked clean and fresh at 9 in the morning, but looked an hour later as though they had been slept in all night. He noticed the absence of vests and the encircling of the body by a belt no matter how fat the man.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED FOR RED CROSS DRIVE

Three governors, a District Commissioner, a president of a bankers' association, and four bank presidents and cashiers make up the advisory committee appointed by John Poole, chairman of Potomac division for the second American Red Cross drive. The quota of this division, which includes the District, Maryland, Virginia, and West Virginia, is $25,500,000.

The following men comprise the advisory committee which will aid Mr. Poole in the May drive for funds for the Red Cross: Commissioner Louis Brownlow, for the District; John J. Corawell, governor of West Virginia; C. T. Hittesheew, cashier First National Bank of Parkersburg, and H. O. Alekhire, president of the Bankers' Association of Huntington, for West Virginia; Emerson C. Harrington, governor of Maryland, and Joseph D. Baker, president of the Citizens' National Bank of Washington, and A. H. S. Post, president Mercantile Trust and Deposit Company, of Baltimore, for Maryland; Westmoreland Davis, governor of Virginia, and John M. Miller, Jr., president of the First National Bank of Richmond, for Virginia.

The Potomac division will have offices with the Liberty Loan at 1415 H street northwest.

BILLY SUNDAY CHORUS TO ASSIST Y. M. C. A.

With the Y. M. C. A. Liberty Hut, the old Billy Sunday tabernacle near Union Station, almost in working order, the first get-together meeting of the large Billy Sunday chorus will be held in Liberty Hut tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. Percy S. Foster will lead the chorus and it is planned to rally singers to somewhere near the 1,000 mark to assist in the big work planned by the Y. M. C. A. for war-time singing. The alterations on the tabernacle are about completed. The many choir seats have been left in place and a stage erected in front of them with adequate facilities for dressing rooms, etc., to meet the needs of the entertainments to be given there. The Saturday gathering is to be an informal one, but the chorus will be of immediate service for on Monday and Tuesday evenings of next week the famous evangelist, Gypsy Smith, who has just returned from Y. M. C. A. work in Europe will hold meetings there.

SWIFT WORKERS HERE PUT $5,100 IN LIBERTY LOAN

Following a patriotic address by W. C. Nicholson, of New York, on the third Liberty loan, the employees of the local branch of Swift & Co., meat packers, subscribed to the amount of $5,100. Mr. Nicholson's address was very forceful. One hundred per cent of the employees of the branch bought bonds.

Swift & Co. purchase Liberty loan bonds for their employees and allow the employees to pay for them out of their salaries at the rate of 50 cents a week for each $50 bond, and $1 a week for each $100 bond. During the sale of the first and second issues the Washington branch alone subscribed to the amount of over $10,000. The bonds subscribed for on this third issue will be purchased through the National Bank of Washington.

Ribbons for Ribbon Knitted Sweaters

—a new fashion—

Narrow, satiny ribbons that will knit into the most attractive Summer Sweaters are now being shown in rose and Copenhagen. The ribbon is on spools, 100 yards to the spool; $1.25 the spool.

About 100 yards are needed for a sleeveless sweater, and about 600 yards for the style with sleeve.

These Ribbon-Knit Sweaters are becoming quite the fad. Instructions for their making are given free when the material is purchased here.

Knit the Spiral Sock

—two at a time—

It is hard to knit socks to fit each soldier, sometimes the heel may come where the sole ought to be, again it may go far up the leg, and perhaps you know from experience how uncomfortable that is, so the men are asking for the Spiral Sock, the kind that is heelless, and just slips on. They are sure to fit any foot, and to be comfortable, and you will probably want to make them for your soldier boys.

We have the necessary materials for their making, and free instructions are giving to those who purchase the wool here.

You can make two socks at once—two in the time you used to take for one, by the new instructions, but please remember that we can only offer these instructions when the wool is purchased here.

The Vogue for Earrings is Growing

And it will probably grow rapidly when Washington women see the lovely new antique earrings that we have just received. The setting is dull gold, and the stones and combinations embrace everything that you can think of. All of them conform to the latest craze—the very long earrings that dangle coquettishly with every movement of the head. Particularly attractive is one of dull Etruscan gold, fuchsia-colored, the stones being set with amethyst, while pure white stones glitter on the petals. Another has a small miniature in pearl setting, with pearl drops, jet and pearls in artistic design form another. Indeed, we could not possibly describe how very pretty they are, but we hope that you will come in to see them for yourself, and you will surely want a pair.

Specially Priced, $2.75 to $6.50.

Street floor, Eleventh street.
